

Honors Transfer Appeal Form

Transfer students who have participated in an Honors program at their previous institution have the ability to appeal classes to count towards BGSU honors credits needed for graduation.

Each appeal will be reviewed by an Honors College staff member to determine if the course meets requirements to fulfill an Honors course. You will receive notification of the decision for your appeal by email. Filling out the appeal form doesn't guarantee approval. Below are guidelines for the appeal process:

- Students will not be able to transfer in HNRS 2010, HNRS 2020, HNRS 4980, or HNRS 4990.
- Students must have received an A or a B in their Honors courses to transfer as Honors credit.
- Students must submit their appeal in the first semester of attendance to be considered for appeal.
- Before filling out the appeal, the student must meet with their Honors College advisor to put together a plan on how they will earn the remaining Honors credits if their appeal is granted.
- Students will not be able to appeal more than 10 credit hours for Honors.
